

2017 CASE Study - Toby The Turkey

Managing Risk & Compliance During Thanksgiving

Background: Toby's least favorite time of the year was Thanksgiving. For years he was managing his top risks during the Thanksgiving period on manual Excel sheets which were time consuming to collate and provided no accountability or transparency. This meant that he was unable to successfully manage his risks and many of his turkey colleagues ended up on the dinner table.

In 2017 Toby discovered ViClarity. After a pain free implementation, the process of managing his Thanksgiving Risks has been automated saving him 60% of his time. All of Toby's Thanksgiving Risks are displayed on a live dashboard allowing him to identify risks outside of tolerance levels and the solution allows him to automatically assign mitigating controls and actions to these risks. Now Toby can enjoy thanksgiving knowing that his organizations turkeys are safe.
